There are now in the library 504 volumes of books. This list comprises books of eight classes, besides miscellaneous and periodicals, namely: Fine arts, biographies, drama and poetry, history, science, theological and religious works, voyages and travels, and fiction. With such a fine collection of books in our midst, the report shows but a very small per cent. who avail themselves of the perusal of these.

The present board of trustees met at the library and found the books in good order and the records well kept. The trustees decided to collect no fines for 1900.

Also thought best to issue catalogues, and the trustees and librarian, after much pains-taking, found one of simplicity which they thought filled the want.

The chairman of the board, assisted by the librarian, has arranged such a catalogue in readiness for the printer but on account of lack of funds deemed it wise not to get it printed for circulation.

Respectfully submitted,

CANDIS HELEN MINER, Chairman.

SCHOOL REPORT.

The schools in town have not been satisfactory. Owing to sickness, vaccination, measles, etc., the attendance has been very irregular.

Text books have been bought at a cost of $23.53, and maps, $3.80.

The schools should be more consolidated; not more than three ought to be maintained. Two or three, six or eight make a school monotonous.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES E. ELMS, Chairman School Board.
